It doesn't matter or I prefer not to answer

How big does crime (generally) impact your decision

If it's not entirely safe, I'm not going

As long as it's safer than where I currently live

It depends on the type of crime

I am ready to navigate anything within reason.

Is your plan of an urgent nature (residencies take shorter time periods than citizenships)

I have waited too long. I need something in action ASAP
I want to commence both short-term and long-term plans
However long it takes within reason

The religion of the new destination for living, banking, gold storage, citizenship matters
