

Nordic Mensa Fund Call 2023

In 2023 the Nordic Mensa Fund will award a maximum of five “Article of the year” awards and a number of project grants depending on the applications received. The nomination/application period starts on 01.05.2023 and ends at 30.9.2023. Awards will be announced on the website of the Nordic Mensa Fund as well as directly to those awarded before the end of the year.

The following research areas are supported by the Fund: medical, psychological, sociological or educational aspects of intelligence and the human brain. The supported research needs to have a clear link to intelligence-related issues. The nominated author or the main applicant must be affiliated with one of the countries involved in the Nordic Mensa Fund: Sweden, Finland, Norway or Denmark, either by nationality, residence or affiliation with a university based in one of these countries.

Award for scientific articles of the year, 1000€

Personal grant for nominated individual authors of outstanding published scientific articles that are related to the research areas supported by the Fund and are published after 1st January 2022. The article can be written in English or one of the Nordic languages. Anyone can nominate an article, including the authors of the article. The award will be given to the nominated author as a personal grant.

Project grants, up to 10 000€

The project grant is intended to cover direct research costs for a project related to one of the areas the foundation is supporting. Smaller grants can also be applied for to cover e.g. travel for conferences to present intelligence related research results, projects aiming to communicate/disseminate the research results to the general public or other research project related expenses. The grants will be paid and processed through the applicant's university/institute finance system. For grants above 5 000€, 80% of the grant will be disbursed up front and the last 20% will be paid out when the final project report has been submitted and approved by the Fund.

The Nordic Mensa Fund is a result of the long-standing close collaboration between the national Mensa associations of Sweden, Finland, Norway and Denmark. It was established in 2020 as a common project aiming to realize one of the key missions of Mensa, which is to encourage intelligence research. The Nordic Mensa Fund is an independent entity and a registered fund-raising foundation (insamlingsstiftelse) under Swedish law. Nordic Mensa Fund supports scientific research related to medical, psychological, sociological or educational aspects of intelligence and the human brain.
